Aaron-

Yes, the Year of Manufacture bill draft is back! Rep. Petrowski would like this (2001 LRB 5115/1) drafted for 2003 with some changes. In your drafter's note (attached for your convenience), you mentioned that collectors are required to renew their registration under 341.266 and they are then issued the current registration decal. I found no reference to that in 341.266 and was told by a collector that that does not occur. 341.266(2)(c) says, "the owner may reregister the vehicle without the payment of any additional fee." This sounds goofy. Why would they reregister if they didn't have to.

Anyway, I think we should change that to require them to reregister annually, without the payment of any additional fee. Upon reregistration, the collector will be issued the current registration decal the collector will affix to the collectors plate that is carried in the vehicle.

Please let me know if you have questions or need clarification.

Thanks-

Kathy

, and the renewal of registration of,
Gen. Cert.

1 AN ACT to amend 341.15 (3) (a) and 341.265 (1m); and to create 341.15 (3) (d)
2 and 341.266 (2) (dm) of the statutes; relating to: the display of historical
3 registration plates on special interest vehicles that are 20 or more years old and
4 providing a penalty.

Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

Under current law, an owner of a motor vehicle that is of model year 1945 or earlier may register the vehicle as an antique vehicle. Antique vehicles may be driven only for special occasions such as display and parade purposes or for necessary testing, maintenance, and storage purposes. Antique vehicles may display a historical registration plate from or representing the model year of the vehicle but must carry current registration plates in the vehicle.

Also under current law, an owner of a special interest vehicle that is 20 or more years old may, under specified circumstances, register the vehicle as a special interest vehicle for a one-time fee of twice the regular annual registration fee ($45 for most automobiles), plus a one-time processing fee of $50, and the registration may be renewed for no additional fee so long as the vehicle is not operated on the highways during the month of January. A special interest vehicle is a motor vehicle that has not been changed from its original manufacturer's specifications and which is being preserved for its historic interest. ~~ADD INSERT A~~

This bill allows a motor vehicle registered as a special interest vehicle to display historical Wisconsin registration plates from or representing the model year of the vehicle if the historical plates do not bear the same registration number as that assigned by the Department of Transportation (DOT) to any other currently registered vehicle. The owner of the vehicle must carry ~~current~~ <sup>the distinctive</sup> registration plates in the vehicle. The bill requires the owner to notify DOT of the historical plates' registration number and requires DOT to record that number in the vehicle registration records maintained by DOT.

For further information see the state fiscal estimate, which will be printed as an appendix to this bill.

The people of the state of Wisconsin, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. 341.15 (3) (a) of the statutes is amended to read:

341.15 (3) (a) A person who operates a vehicle for which a current registration plate, insert tag, decal, or other evidence of registration has been issued without such plate, tag, decal, or other evidence of registration being attached to the vehicle, except when such vehicle is being operated pursuant to a temporary operation permit or plate or displays a historical plate under s. 341.265 or 341.266 <sup>a plain</sup>

SECTION 2. 341.15 (3) (d) of the statutes is created to read:

341.15 (3) (d) A person who operates a vehicle that displays a historical plate under s. 341.265 or 341.266 and for which a current insert tag, decal, or other evidence of registration has been issued without such tag, decal, or other evidence of registration being attached to the vehicle.

SECTION 3. 341.265 (1m) of the statutes is amended to read:

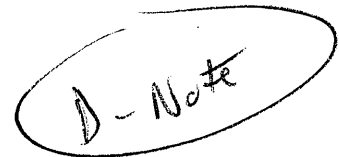

341.265 (1m) -A- Notwithstanding s. 341.15 (1), a person who registers an antique motor vehicle under sub. (1) may furnish and display on the vehicle a historical plate from or representing the model year of the vehicle if the registration and plates issued by the department are simultaneously carried in or, with respect to an antique motorcycle, with the vehicle and are available for inspection.

SECTION 4. 341.266 (2) (dm) of the statutes is created to read:

BILL

1           341.266 (2) (dm) Notwithstanding s. 341.15 (1), a person who registers a special
2 interest vehicle under par. (a) may furnish and display on the vehicle historical
3 plates previously issued by the department from or representing the model year of
4 the vehicle if the registration and the plates issued by the department under par. (c)
5 are simultaneously carried in or, with respect to a motorcycle, with the vehicle and
6 are available for inspection. A vehicle displaying historical plates under this 7 paragraph shall display 2 identical plates, one attached to the front and the other to
8 the rear of the vehicle, except that a motorcycle shall display one historical plate
9 attached to the rear of the vehicle. Notwithstanding s. 341.15 (1m), any registration
10 decal or tag issued by the department for a vehicle on which any historical plate is 11 displayed shall be placed on the rear historical plate in the manner directed by the 12 department. A person who displays any historical plate on a vehicle under this 13 paragraph shall, not less than 10 days prior to displaying the plate, notify the 14 department of the registration number of the historical plate and identify the 15 vehicle, and the vehicle registration records of the department shall reflect the 16 registration number of the historical plate along with the registration number
17 assigned by the department under par. (c). This paragraph does not apply to any 18 historical plate bearing the same registration number as that assigned by the 19 department for another currently registered vehicle.

The attached bill is a redraft of 2001 LRB-5115, with changes you requested.

Under current law, "collector plates" expire annually. s. 341.14 (2m). The attached draft clarifies that registration of special interest vehicles under s. 341.266 expires annually, but may be renewed without the payment of any additional fee.

Also under current law, all registration plates, including collector plates, must display "an indication of the period for which the specific plate is issued or the date of expiration of registration." s. 341.12 (3) (c). Under s. 341.13 (3), in lieu of issuing a new registration plate, DOT may issue a decal identifying the current period of registration. Accordingly, the clarification that registration of a special interest vehicle expires annually necessarily requires issuance, under s. 341.13 (3), of a decal identifying the current period of registration for such a vehicle.

If you have any questions or concerns, please call. If the attached draft meets with Representative Petrowski's approval, please let me know and I will turn it into an introducible "/1" draft.

As you requested, the attached bill has been redrafted to require placement of the registration renewal tag or decal on the "collector" plates instead of the historical plates. This change necessitated modifications at page 2, line 11, and page 4, line 2, of LRB-0961/P1. (I also eliminated the cross-reference to s. 341.265 at page 2, line 9, because I believe it is unnecessary.) Most vehicles are issued two plates, but DOT issues only one renewal tag or decal, which, for most vehicles, must be placed on the rear plate. Since "collector" plates carried inside the vehicle cannot be considered to have a "rear" plate and only one renewal tag or decal is issued for the two plates, the attached draft allows the vehicle owner to place the renewal tag or decal on either "collector" plate carried within the vehicle.

Mike,

Have you received a hard copy of this yet? LRB practice is to send a hard copy with cover memo to the requester, isn't it? Thanks. Aaron

Re: Technical memo, 2003 AB 282

The bill analysis contains an inaccurate description of current law regarding special interest vehicle registration.

1. Page 1, last 2 sentences and page 2, first sentence, say,

"Vehicles registered as special interest vehicles are issued distinctive registration plates, which expire annually. The registration of a special interest vehicle may be renewed for no additional fee so long as the vehicle is not operated on the highways during the month of January. Like all registration plates, the distinctive registration plates of vehicles registered as special interest vehicles must display an indication of the period for which the plate is issued or the date of expiration of registration."

Actually, vehicles registered as special interest vehicles have a non-expiring registration. This bill would create an annual registration for special interest vehicle registration.

(A person who has a collector's identification number under S.341.266(2)(d) may also obtain "collector special" plates under S.341.14(2m), which require the regular registration fee applicable to the vehicle and expire annually.)

2. Also, the last paragraph on page 2 says,

"This bill also clarifies that the registration of a motor vehicle registered as a special interest vehicle expires annually, but may be renewed without the payment of an additional fee."

Current law allows re-registration for no additional fee. Re-registration is different from renewal of registration. For example, if the owner decides that he or she wishes to operate in January, and registers the vehicle to regular auto registration, the owner must pay the $45 automobile registration fee. Then, if the owner later wishes to re-register the vehicle back to special interest registration, the owner does not again need to pay the registration fee specified in S.341.266(2)(b) and the processing fee of $50 in S.341.266(3). This is because the registration on this particular vehicle, which is non-expiring, is still in effect. Also, the word "clarifies" is inaccurate, as noted in item#1 above.
